Evening Desert Safar with BBQ Dinner

Spend an evening at the Desert Camp to experience the bygone Bedouin life. Revisit those good old days with Shisha smoking, Henna tattooing, barbecue lunch/dinner, local Tanoura as well as Belly dance shows.

Itinerary

This Dubai desert safari tour will familiarize you how fascinating was the old desert life!

Our Safari Captain will pick you up, from the hotel or selected location, in a 4 wheel drive Land Cruiser. You will then be taken to the Lahbab desert. In that one hour drive, learn how the present cosmopolis Dubai was originally a village first and the way it transformed to a trendsetting city. As you arrive at Lahbab desert, take an initial break at the rest area for about 20-25 minutes. There you can take rest, avail bathroom/toilet facilities, meanwhile, your land cruiser gets its tyre pressures adjusted for the desert safari. Even as other convoys join your gang, you can go for an optional Quad Biking(With additional cost).

Soon the adventures begin with dune bashing at Dubai desert. Go for a dune drive through the peculiarly shaped red dunes at Lahbab. After 30 to 45 minutes of dune bashing drive, keep your thrills alive with sand-surfing along the dunes (sandboarding upon request). Afterwards, we will proceed to the desert camp.

At the camp, you can see Camels in a group - ready for a ride. As you enter in the camp, our safari captain will show you the slots (where main camp activities take place) and you will be lead to a table inside/in front of your tent. There will be an unlimited supply of soft drinks in your tent where you can try out Arab attires (Abaya and Kandora - for ladies and gents). Get welcomed with Gahwa, Gaymat (Arabian coffee & sweets) and dry dates. Refresh yourselves before you move on for the next activity- Camel ride.

It's now time for a ride atop 'Ship of the desert'. You can experience the camel ride in a group which can be repeated. Also, watch the sunset from the camp's dedicated sunset dune. Get these beautiful scenes captured with your cameras. You can use the free time to explore the camp with a lot of Bedouin activities including the must-do activities of Dubai desert- Henna tattooing, Shisha smoking, trying out Arab attires Abaya/ Kandora as of a local Arab citizen, meeting up with a Falcon expert and posing with that majestic bird.

Now it's time for some evening entertainers! The Tanoura dance will be performed at the centre stage initially. Soon you will be invited to a barbecue dinner buffet. You are free to taste the desserts provided after the dinner with barbecue dishes. Belly dance would be the very next entertainment show.

Rest is the relaxation time for you. The camp lights would be turned off completely to set a typical desert night ambience for you when the entertainment activities are finally over. Relax or refresh yourselves by meditating. Watch the vast sky, the lucky ones can spot a few stars!

This is a very full day and we will be moving along at a pace to see as much as possible. In order to take in all there is along the way, many stops will be rather quick. We will visit three of the Emirates today.

Starting at 8 am, we drive 30 minutes to The Emirates of Sharjah. We pass by Sharjah Lagoon and start our journey at Cultural Square and off to Majahrah Souq with its intricate mosaics and golden dome. Our next stop is the 150-year old Bait Al Naboodah (Al Naboodah House) now known as Sharjah Heritage Museum. We will marvel at the majestic King Faisal Mosque (currently largest mosque in the emirates) and the Pearl Monument, symbol of the UAE on our way to the Blue Souq (central market) located in the Union Square. Here more than 600 shops sell carpets, gold, silver, antiques, perfumes, clothes and many other goods. The traditional items are upstairs, so don't worry when you walk in and see contemporary western wear! If you do not wish to look at shops at all, there is a café inside to have refreshments (pay direct).

Continuing, we go to the excellent Sharjah Islamic Museum. The Museum exhibits a range of important Islamic artifacts and manuscripts expressing the distinct Islamic heritage. This range contains a number of scientific and literary religious manuscripts and several collections of the arts and crafts of the Islamic civilization, including clay, pottery and glass as well as metallic handicrafts inlaid with silver, gold and brass. The museum also exhibits silver and textile handicrafts as well as ornamentation tools, jewelry and various Islamic mints, dating to both Abbaside and Omayyad eras. These mints include collections of silver Dinars and Dirhams.

Other exhibits include archaeological findings dating from the Islamic era, found in varied excavation sites in the Emirate of Sharjah. They include arms and varied samples representing styles of the civilized Islamic life for more than 1400 years.

Major attractions at the museum include the Shamsi House, the Holy Kaaba Hall, the Islamic Mints Hall, the China and Pottery Hall, the Arabesque Hall, the Manuscripts hall, the Archaeology Hall, the Science Hall, and the Metallic Handicrafts Hall. The museum is huge and your guide will select a few exhibits to visit.

Next stop is Old town of Sharjah, visiting the heritage museum and the souk al torath. Refreshments can be had in the local juice shop (if you did not already have refreshments inside the Blue Souq). Drive along side the Sharjah creek where the old dhows are busy loading and off-loading the goods just as they did 100 years ago.

We continue to Ajman (20-30 min). Visit Ajman's enchanting museum - housed in an ancient fort - which offers intriguing insights into the local lifestyle before all of the changes brought about by oil.

- We shall stop for lunch in Ajman at 4* Restaurant

Next we shall pass through one more of the Emirates, Ras Al Khaimah, (45 min-1 hour drive), the northern and most fertile of the Emirates which leads up to the mountainous border with Oman's spectacularly beautiful Musandam Peninsula. We shall have a short stop in the unspoiled authentic old town to soak up the atmosphere.
